

BRACKEN POST NOMINATES ITS 1929 OFFICERS

Richard W. Fechtenburg is Nominee for Office of Commander

REPORT ON AIRPORT

Committee Appointed to Outline Plans for Armistice Dinner

Report relative to work being carried on by the committees of the various organizations of the borough interested in securing an airport for the town, was given at the meeting of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, last evening.

W. Ray Smith, who was named on the committee from the local post, is chairman of the general committee. Mr. Smith reported all committee members are working enthusiastically upon the matter.

Nomination of officers was among the items of business last evening, the result being as follows: Commander, Richard W. Fechtenburg; senior vice-commander, Robert B. Downing; junior vice-commander, George W. Croner and John J. McCullin; finance officer, Ralph B. Scheffey; chaplain, Robert B. Hems; historian, Bernard Murray; executive committee (five to be elected): W. Ray Smith, Roland Raub, William Straus, Evan B. Vandegrift, Glenn Thompson, J. C. Schmidt, Jr., L. J. Hetherington, William Griffiths, Harry Goheen and John Rafferty.

Election of officers will take place at the September meeting, the officers being installed in October.

The present commander, W. Ray Smith, was elected as business manager of the post bugle corps at last evening's session. William Griffiths was chosen as commander of the American Legion Cadets, taking the place left vacant by Harry Burbank, who will soon move to New Jersey.

With memories of the Armistice Day dinner of 1927 in mind, the post members are desirous of repeating the occasion, and have already commenced laying plans for a similar affair this November. A committee appointed to attend to details consists of: Robert B. Downing, chairman; L. J. Hetherington, John Brehm, Samuel Hardy, Ralph B. Scheffey and Richard W. Fechtenburg.

PA. INDUSTRIES TAKE TOLL OF 142 LIVES

Number of Injuries Given For Same Month Placed At 12,291

OTHER STATE NEWS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—(INS)—Pennsylvania's industries took a toll of 142 lives and caused injuries to 12,291 workers during July, according to reports made public by the bureau of statistics of the Department of Labor and Industry.

Detailed figures announced last night by the bureau showed that 50 less fatal and 212 less non-fatal accidents were reported during the month than in June.

The largest decrease was in the coal mining industry. Fatalities in the anthracite mines were 17 less than in June and in the bituminous, 20 less.

Fatalities in the construction, retail trading, hotel and restaurant groups showed an increase over the preceding month.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Aug. 22—(INS)—Centre county jail has a female guest. She is Mrs. Annie Sokolosky, of Rush Township, said to be the county's star female offender, who is in jail without regular commitment. Although her time was up two months ago, she continues to "stick around."

Police said Annie has been in jail more than eight times and most of her imprisonments have been for liquor law violations. She was released from her last sentence recently and refused help by the poor department, camping on Judge Flemming's front porch. She was picked up by authorities and taken to jail without commitment. Authorities are puzzled over what to do with her.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 22—(INS)—H. R. Hershimer, of Slippery Rock Township, has a left-handed ear of corn. One end of the ear is the perfect reproduction of a left hand with the thumb at the proper angle and the other fingers grouped close together.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—(INS)—The Department of Highways today announced the revocation of 22 automobile drivers' licenses and the placing of 11 additional names on the official prohibitory list.

Revocations for intoxication included Steve Oravec, of Sharon and John Meyers, of Easton. I. F. S. Sheriff, of Punxsutawney, was included among those placed on the prohibitory list for intoxication.

Surprise Shower Given In Honor of Miss Massicla

A miscellaneous surprise shower was given to Miss Theresa Massicla, Otter street, on Saturday evening by her sister, Miss Rose Massicla, and her cousin, Miss Anna Palerm.

The rooms of the Massicla home were beautifully decorated in blue and yellow.

Those present: The Misses Carmela and Ida Norato, Anna and Elizabeth LaSalle, Eva Raccagni, Jennie Pucci, Mary Bianco, Frances Tamburella, Theresa and Rose Massicla, Anna Palerm, of Bristol; Dorothy, Ida, Anna and Jennie Turano, of Trenton; Messrs. Frank Palerm, Salactone Seneca, Nick, Frank and Michael Turano, Dominic Paone.

Dancing and games provided entertainment for the group. Refreshments were served. Delta's orchestra furnished music. Many beautiful gifts were presented to the guest of honor.

RE-STAGE GOLD RUSH OF '49 ON SAME TRAIL

Real Show Will Take Place On Legitimate Stage of Kansas Plains

OXEN ARE TO BE USED

By Vernon E. Moore

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 22.—The reincarnation of the historic prairie schooner, the subject of literary and painting arts, will be found in the re-enactment of the history of the '49ers who made their ways through the maze desert and plains lands in quest of the unbelievable gold in California.

Kansas City prideful of its history in connection with the gold rush and the old Santa Fe trail will hold a real show on the legitimate stage of the plains of Kansas and the deserts of New Mexico.

A train of old time prairie schooners drawn by long-horned oxen will wend their way across the continent to the West some time during the summer of 1929, exactly eighty years after the actual happening. Their arrival in San Francisco will be a part of the celebration of this eightieth anniversary, too.

The object of the caravan will be the re-enactment of the story of the '49ers, not as a novelist like Hough saw it, but as it actually happened.

But there will be much about the caravan which will not reach the picturesqueness of the pictures presented of the pioneers of '49. Not many long-bearded men dressed in homespun clothing and carrying long rifles of the plainsmen of pioneer days will be included in the members of the caravan.

Neither will many of the men be able to use a rifle or any firearm effectively enough to kill a buffalo, should one be sighted, and provide "necessary" venison for the caravan.

From the old Westport Landing, the starting point of many caravans in the earlier days, the Santa Fe trail, now part of the concrete highway system of the State of Kansas.

Kansas City holds many points of historical interest to the formation and development of the West and the Southwest. There is Westport Landing at the intersection of the Kaw and Missouri rivers, one of the pioneer settlements in Missouri, and the starting point of caravans and pony expresses. From this old landing the Mormons began their hegira to Salt Lake City in quest of a refuge from the persecutions of the infurated citizens in this section.

Captain Charles E. Davis, an old army officer, has been planning the details of the trip for months in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce who will sponsor the trip.

Plan in Detail

His plan is that every city passed through in the Middle West should supply one of the wagons and a brace of oxen and bear a proportionate share of the expense of the venture. He has every indication that most of the larger cities along the highway will offer this co-operation.

So elaborate are other of his plans that the trip will furnish a real setting for a motion picture. It is planned that Westport Landing will be reconstructed into its old form. Old time river boats will bring their cargoes of provisions to the occasion when historically minded Kansas Citians gather to bid farewell to the travelers.

Boy Scouts will be pressed into service to mark the ancient trail of the '49ers with flags from Kansas City to the West Coast.

HUGE BARN PREY TO FLAMES; LOSS ESTIMATED $25,000

Buildings at Summer Home of Dr. S. Merrill Weeks, of Phila., Destroyed

AT "COMPTON MANOR"

Farm Located Near Parkland; Spontaneous Combustion Blamed for Blaze

PARKLAND, Aug. 22—Fire that is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion Monday afternoon destroyed one of the largest barns in Bucks county on "Compton Manor" farm, near here, causing a loss of approximately $25,000.

Three fire companies were on the scene for seven hours and did heroic work in saving valuable cattle, horses and the mansion house near the main farm buildings.

The farm of 160 acres, one of the show places of lower Bucks county, is owned by Dr. S. Merrill Weeks, 1429 Spruce street, Philadelphia, a well-known dental surgeon.

Shortly after 12:30 noon the fire was discovered by Robert Johnson, an employee of the farm. Alarms were sent to South Langhorne, Langhorne and Hulmeville and volunteer fire companies from those places responded.

An ample water supply on the farm gave the firemen an opportunity to do their best. Within the barn were thirty tons of hay that had just recently been placed there, and when the fire started the interior of the barn, in a short time, was one mass of flames, so that it was impossible to save the contents.

The main barn building, a cow barn, storage shed and workshop, all equipped with valuable dairy apparatus and the latest in farm machinery, were all destroyed. In addition to the thirty tons of hay that burned, three silos were destroyed, and in the fields nearby, fourteen acres of rye, 12 acres of oats and 12 acres of barley were burned to the ground.

Five horses and eight head of valuable cattle were saved from the flames by farm hands and firemen.

Firemen worked steadily for more than three hours to prevent the flames from reaching the mansion house where Dr. Weeks has his Summer home.

The owner of the farm returned from Spring Lake, N. J., where he had been spending some time. After consultation with County Fire Marshal William L. Stackhouse, of Hulmeville, Dr. Weeks said that the loss would be between $20,000 and $25,000. He said that his present plans were to rebuild.

Annual Peach Festival To Be Held by Hibernians

The annual peach festival of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will be held on Corson street, between Buckley and Plum, Friday and Saturday evenings, August 24th and 25th.

In conjunction with the affair there will be offered to the public many novelties. Dancing will be enjoyed in the hall to strains of music dispensed by a well-known orchestra.

It is expected by those in charge that the festival will surpass those given in previous years.

Carnival Scheduled For Newport Road Chapel

The carnival scheduled for two evenings of last week and two evenings of this week at the Newport Road Community Chapel, is to be extended to include four evenings this week. This change is made due to stormy weather the latter part of last week.

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings are the dates set for the affair this week. The numerous attractions will please both young and old.

LATEST NEWS

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Aug. 22.—Two men were under arrest here today for the robbery of Buckingham, Wycombe, Hatboro, Beth Ayres and Somerton stations of the Reading Railroad last Saturday night. The men, both Philadelphians, gave their names as: Frank Cardone, 32, alias "Dago Frank," and Raymond Dunlop, 21. Both will receive hearings on Friday before Squire Edward Kirk of Wycombe.

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 22.—Wrecking crews from Lewistown and Enola were called out early today to clear the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad near Bayleys, which became blocked when twenty-five freight cars left the rails and made four tracks impassable. Passenger trains were rerouted through Selinsgrove until the tracks can be cleared of debris. No reason for the derailment could be learned.

BUCCOU CIRCUS PLEASES FOLKS OF COUNTRYSIDE

Fun Scenes Galore, Presented Under Supervision of Swimming Examiner

WELCOME BY PALMER

Several Service Clubs Again Make Possible "Big Brother" Week

Staged under the supervision of Kenneth Gemmill, National Red Cross Swimming Examiner, the Boy Scout Camp Circus and minstrel show at Buccou, was a riot of fun scenes. Over three hundred were present from the countryside around camp and from communities in Bucks county. The evening program was opened with a welcome by Henry Palmer, chairman of the camp committee, who stated that he thanked the people who live around the camp for many courtesies they have extended to the campers, and remarked that he wanted them to feel that a welcome hand would be always extended at Buccou.

Introduced by Mr. Gemmill, William "Bill" Lentz, of Sellersville, No. 1, started the show as ring master of ceremonies and what a "wow" of a master "Bill" proved himself to be. Monkeys, wild animals, Barney Google, clowns, rope walkers and "Jim" Townsend's "Pennsylvanians" were greatly enjoyed as each group presented something new and novel.

The staff minstrel show was a "hit" with leading parts taken by "Ken" Gemmill, of Hartsville; Wayne Stuver of Perkasie; "Doc" Bender of New York City; "Walt" Rutherford, of Doylestown, and "Charlie" Carter, of Parkland. Mr. Livermore, as interlocutor, introduced the various numbers which comprised specialties of balloon dances, cowboy-Indian battle and an operating scene with Cyril Hinkle, of Plumsteadville, as the victim. The show was such a success that a specialty show of some kind will be given each year.

It is announced that there will be specialists at the Community House, Dorrance and Cedar streets, on the above date for the purpose of examining those who apply. The hours will be from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and there will be absolutely no charge made for the examination.

It is advised that the family physician be consulted previous to the examination and further information may be obtained from them.

Other "Heart and Chest Clinics" are to be held throughout Bucks county at the following places:

Quakertown, September 12th, Masonic Building; Doylestown, September 13th, in high school building.

The nine young scouts of the week were Joseph Britton, Bristol, No. 2; William Lentz, Sellersville No. 1; and Cornell Markley, of Perkasie, No. 1, who were elected to Wimachtdienk. FARMERS SWING TO HOOVER

Some years ago American agriculture attained its political maturity, with the result that intensive cultivation of the farm vote has most of the national elections since that time. There will be no lack of this again this year. It started before the conventions, was in evidence at the conventions, predominated in Hoover's acceptance speech and will not be overlooked by Governor Smith.

But there is the added condition this year that the farmers in their turn have set about to cultivate the parties as never before. They are demanding positive yields in benefits. The party which will get the bulk of the farm vote, they indicate, will be the one offering the best assurance of a bumper crop in results in relieving the unsatisfactory condition of agriculture. They will burrow from within.

The Middle West farmers are turning to the Republican party, rather than to the Democrats or to a third party, political observers are convinced. Fifteen editors of farm publications in ten states have come to the conclusion that Hoover is the candidate for agriculture. Senator McNary has declared himself for Hoover and strategically the Republican party feels strong with Senator Curtis of the wheat belt and one of the supporters of the McNary-Haugen bill as its candidate for vice-president.

Republicans and political experts see the trend in Mr. Lowden's statement that he was "much impressed" by Secretary Hoover's acceptance speech. It will be remembered that the former governor was favored by the farmers for the Republican presidential nomination and withdrew as a candidate because of dissatisfaction with his party's farm plank.

WEATHER

Perhaps it may interest those who feel that they would dispense rainfall in a vastly different way from nature's method if they were in control, to know that the handling of the weather would be a complicated job. Even meteorologists could not tell them all the factors with which they would have to deal. They could assure them that St. Swithin's day has nothing to do with the weather, nor the moon's horns, either, but beyond such negations their explanations would not go far toward making clear to the layman just what he would let himself in for if he should undertake to distribute rainfall and otherwise regulate atmospheric conditions.

Of course, scientists could explain the process of condensation so far as it depends upon the presence in the air of microscopic particles, known as "condensation nuclei," around which rain drops form when the moisture of the atmosphere is cooled to the point of condensation, but they would proceed rather hesitatingly, the layman would find, when they came to such mysteries as the possible factor of electrification in the development of rain drops of such weight that they fall to the earth.

Everything considered, therefore, it seems that man is still far from conquering the weather. Probably that is just as well. The confusion that would result from human control might prove worse than the present system, unsatisfactory as it is. There would be dry blocs and wet blocs. How could the weather engineer satisfy the golfer and the gardener on the same afternoon?

Every day is made up of dozens of little decisions. And so many of them concern things. . . . What sort of breakfast food to serve?—how to wash a chiffon frock?—whether glass dishes should be colored or crystal?—what sort of oil to use in the automobile?—whether to travel by rail, by boat or airplane?

These questions you must answer to suit yourself, for your friends and your family have their own ideas, and you want exactly what fits your case!

Read the advertisements. Send for the booklets offered. Here is practical, modern, up-to-the-minute information about everything imaginable. The booklets (and the advertisements too) are planned and written by experts. Authorities on food chemistry, fashions, domestic science, architecture, interior decoration are answering your very question. Advertisers these days make it their business to understand thoroughly all the different phases of their subject.

Read the advertisements because it pays . . . in time saved . . . in information gained . . . in a wiser spending of your money.

CROYDON A. C. DEFEATS STEEL-HEDDLE A. C.

Croydon A. C. played the Steel-Heddle A. C., of Philadelphia, on Sunday and completely outclassed them by a score of 13 to 3. The main feature of the game was Moore's wonderful pitching. He had 16 strike-outs and allowed only six hits, issuing only 1 pass to first. Both teams played rather ragged ball in the field at times. Croydon plays Dauphin A. A. next Sunday.

A SIMPLE, LIVABLE AND ROOMY HOME

(By R. C. Hunter & Bro., Architects, New York)

After all there is probably no style of house more suited to the American custom of living than the Colonial style. When they are truly proportioned as our old examples are, they always maintain a certain quiet dignity often so lacking in other styles. The Colonial house is undoubtedly the most economical type of house to construct today. It permits a compact, rectangular plan, multiplicity of units, such as door, windows, shutters, etc., and wood construction.

These are some of the reasons why we see so many Colonial homes throughout the country.

The accompanying design shows a plan which is particularly well adapted to the average American Family's mode of living, and is worthy of careful study.

On the first floor are the required living rooms, a dining alcove and toilet room.

On the second floor are four good bed rooms, two baths and good closet room. On the third floor is a maid's room and bath, also ample storage space.

The roof is shingled and stained moss green. The side walls are covered with wide siding painted white. All blinds are painted apple green. Porches are cement stained red and marked off in squares. The chimney is of red brick.

A lot with a frontage of 70 feet or more should be used for this house.

The laundry and steam heating plant are located in the cellar.

Cost, about $11,200.

Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House H-A-134.

PAUL BARRETT GETS TRIAL WITH TRENTON BALL NINE

(By T. M. Juno)

Baseball fans of Bristol may be interested in knowing that Paul Barrett, son of Patrick Barrett, councilman of the fourth ward, had a tryout with Trenton A. A. on Sunday, and his work was very impressive.

Harry Bruce, manager of the Trenton team, has plenty of confidence in the local boy and asserts that he will see action quite often.

Barrett scored the first run of Sunday's game. He beat out a hit to short, stole second, and scored on a single. He scored again in the fifth, reaching first on an error, and being advanced by his mates, and scoring on a wild pitch.

Paul was credited with one put-out and his retrieving of balls hit to him pleased the Trenton fans.

The Bristol boy attended St. Joseph's College and while there played on the varsity baseball team. He plays on the Leedom's team of the Bristol Twilight League. He is assigned to the left field post of the Keystone A. A. team and is also captain of the nine.

WAYNESBORO, Pa., Aug. 22—(INS)—Boy Scouts who camped at Camp David at Old Forge, near here, recently erected a monument in memory of the late David Baer, son of Mrs. A. B. Baer, of this city. Young Baer was a pioneer in Boy Scout work in this district.
